Client Acknowledgement Form CRS Relationship Summary

SEC rules require SEC-registered investment advisers and broker-dealers to deliver to retail investors a brief customer or client relationship summary that provides information about the difference between brokerage services and investment advisory services, as well as the difference in fees, costs and conflicts of interest. We provided a combined Form CRS describing the brokerage services of Chelsea Financial Services and the advisory services of Chelsea Advisory Services.

We have also provided you with a more detailed disclosure about Chelsea Financial Services if you have established a brokerage account with us. We provide you Chelsea Advisory Services Form ADV Part 2 if you have established an advisory relationship with us.

I, the undersigned client, confirm that I have read and understand the Firm's Form CRS Relationship Summary and related documents mentioned above. I have also had the opportunity, as noted on Form CRS Relationship Summary, to ask questions of the registered representative regarding this relationship.
